

Database has autoshrink enabled

SQL Elements has detected that Autoshrink is enabled on one or more databases. This configuration option causes significant performance problems and it is a best practice to disable it for all databases. You can disable this by running the command `ALTER DATABASE <dbname> SET AUTO_SHRINK OFF`.