Change Log Properties window

The Change Log Properties window allows you to view details about an individual event in the Change Log. You can view the following information:

- Date and time the event occurred
- Type of event
- SQL Server instance on which the event occurred
- User who executed the event

To scroll from one event to the next, use the up and down arrows.

To copy the event details to another application, click Copy. This action copies the event details to your clipboard, allowing you to paste the contents into another application such as Microsoft Word.
