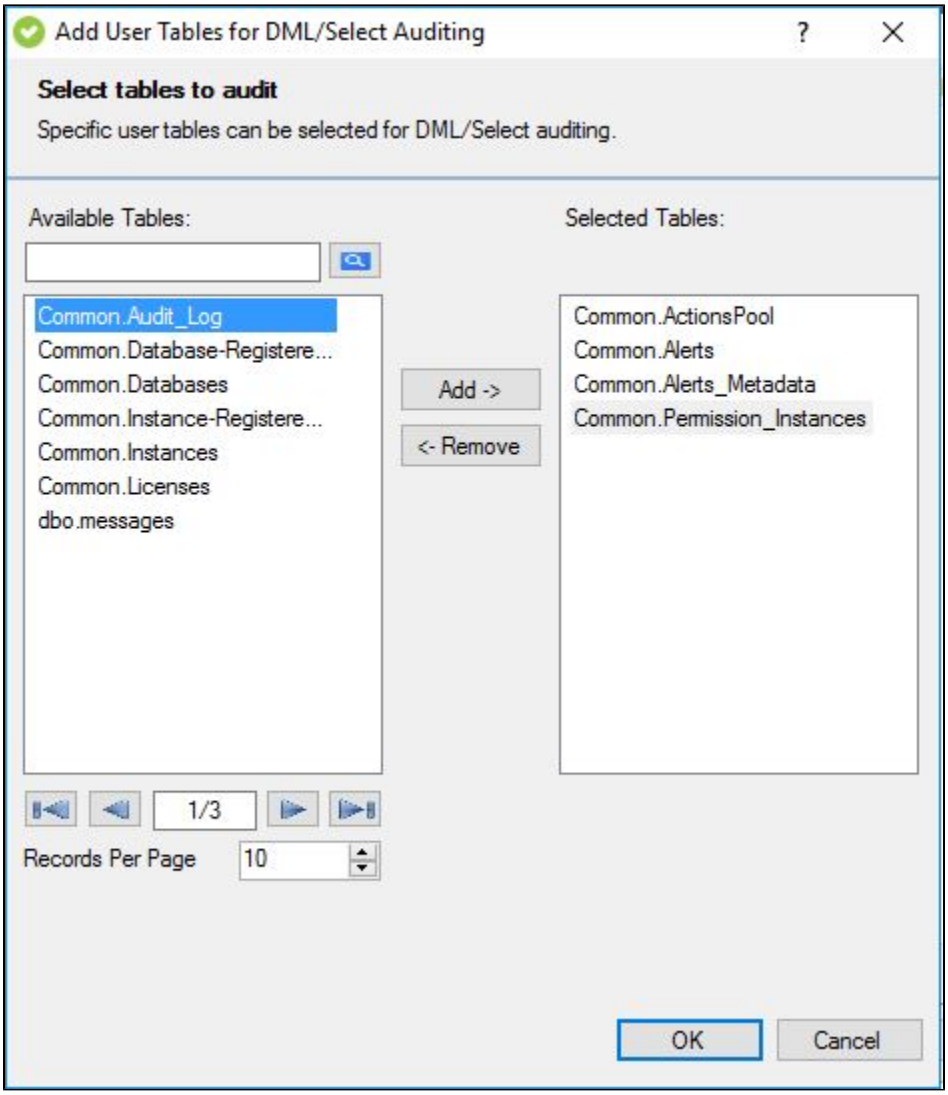
Add User Tables window - DML and SELECT statements

The Add User Tables window allows you to specify which user tables you want to audit for DML and SELECT statements. This setting is available when you choose to audit DML or SELECT statements at the database level. You can audit DML and SELECT events on one or more user tables.


Select the user tables you want to audit, and then click Add.